

HOUSE NEARS VOTE ON FOOD TAX BILL; HOOVER ANXIOUS

Chairman Crisp of Georgia Eliminates Many Items From Budget

WOULD CUT INCOME

Budget Must Be Balanced by Action

WASHINGTON, March 24—The house today came to grips on the manufacturers sales tax with galleries crowded and the air surcharged with excitement. Immediately after the house convened the most controversial feature of the $1,096,000,000 tax bill was placed before the house for action.

In a fighting mood after a day's rest ordered by his physician, Acting Chairman Crisp, Democrat of Georgia, of the ways and means committee asked approval of amendment of the manufacturers tax section eliminating all food stuffs, farm products, and other necessities from the tax.

TO CUT REVENUE
With these changes the tax is estimated to produce $460,000,000 instead of $595,000,000 as originally proposed for an emergency period ending June, 1934.

The manufacturers tax described by leaders as the "heart" of the bill is necessary if Congress is to balance the budget without placing hardships on a few particular industries, Crisp maintained.

It was attacked by opponents—Representative Doughton, Democrat of North Carolina, Rankin, Democrat of Mississippi, and LaGuardia, Republican of New York—as an attempt to shift the tax burden to the poor people, of the nation.

The committee was prepared if the tax is defeated to recommend taxes to take its place.

These include a one cent a gallon tax on gasoline, tax on domestic consumption of electricity and gas, stamp tax on checks and other sales and similar levies, etc.

The opposition was divided. Some proposed different forms of taxation including special sales tax to wipe out the treasury deficit. Others proposed to raise money by selling bonds thus increasing the national debt.

President Hoover is becoming concerned over the chaotic situation in the House.

Late last night, Mr. Hoover summoned to the White House the Republican members of the ways and means committee and Secretary of the Treasury Mills. There was a general discussion of the situation but apparently no action was decided upon.

MAY RE-WRITE BILL
The president is understood to be particularly perturbed over the prospect that if the sales tax is beaten the insurgents will endeavor to re-write the bill on the floor, and probably leave the budget to be balanced only by the issuance of $500,000,000 or $600,000,000 in bonds. To that Mr. Hoover is strongly opposed.

Probably if the sales tax is beaten the republican and democratic regulars will try to have the entire measure re-committed for revision.

PICKAWAY CLUB

The Pickaway Country club will open for the summer April 1, following action of the trustees at a meeting Wednesday evening. The golf course will open at that time with Frank Casey, the club's professional on the job.

According to C. A. Weidon, president of the club, a well has been dug to a depth of 85 feet. Mr. Weidon also reports the fairways of the golf course in the best condition since the club was started.

Two District Candidates May Lose Rights; Papers Mailed After Deadline

Word is awaited in Chillicothe from Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown on the advisability of permitting filing of petitions of Tom D. Krinn for Democratic presidential elector from the 11th district and of Miss Jemima Dungan, for Democratic committee-woman from this district women from this district which were received by the clerk of the election board there after the deadline for filing.

The polls were closed at 6:30 p. m. March 11 and the petitions of Mr. Krinn and Miss Dungan were not received.

until the next day. They were postmarked here at 8 p. m. March 11, according to Walter S. Barrett, clerk of the board there.

At a recent meeting of the board of elections the Democratic members of the board voted to permit the filing of the petitions and the Republican members voted against it. Since the vote stood 2 to 2 the matter was submitted to the secretary of state.

The fact that Ross is the heaviest populated county in the district forced Mr. Krinn and Miss Dungan to file their petitions there.

ROMANCE TO END

ANN HARDING AND HER DAUGHTER

Ann Harding and Husband to Part

HOLLYWOOD, March 24—Fame today had wrecked the home of the film colony's "most ideally married couple," Ann Harding, the wealthy film actress, and her husband, Harry Bannister, screen and stage actor.

In an announcement that made Hollywood gasp, Miss Harding and Bannister revealed that they had separated and that divorce proceedings would be instituted immediately.

ADMIT LOVE
The couple admitted they still loved one another deeply but that each had tired of having Bannister's identity cloaked under the tag of "Ann Harding's husband."

Happily married, Bannister was being shunted into obscurity under the radiance of his actress wife, until their position became untenable.

Signing her name, "Ann Harding Bannister," to a letter to the press, the actress declared that "due to Harry's constant and generous effort to forward my interests, often at the expense of his own, he is gradually losing his identity, becoming a background for any activities, and looked upon as 'Ann Harding's husband.'"

ONLY WAY OUT
"We have decided that the only way for Harry to reestablish himself is to go to the front."

Strive To Save Stude's Life

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 24—Doctors battled today to save the life of Frank Luckey, one of three engineering students shot in a campus feud over the prankish kidnapping of Mary Louise Butterfield, pretty University of Missouri student.

More than half a dozen blood transfusions were necessary to stave off death, physicians announced, but the danger of peritonitis lingered and rendered Luckey's condition extremely grave.

Meanwhile, Burns Frederick, accused of wielding the revolver, was free on $1,000 bonds under charges of carrying a concealed weapon. Arraigned before Justice W. H. Tandy last night, Frederick, a law student, pleaded not guilty through his attorney.

Frederick was injured in the campus fracas Tuesday night, which followed the shooting of Luckey. Charles Love and Jerry F. Cobe, Love and Cobe were not seriously wounded. Frederick's head injury, received in an alleged beating, was found to be minor after a medical examination.

ROOSEVELT AGAIN WINS

Defeats Garner's Proxy In Georgia By Margin of More Than 10 To One.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 24.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York, today emerged victorious from Georgia's Democratic preferential primary election.

Latest figures in the count of ballots cast in yesterday's election gave New York's chief executive a preponderant majority over his opponent, Judge G. H. Howard, and virtually assured the Roosevelt cause of the state's 28 votes in the June presidential convention at Chicago.

LEADS 10 TO ONE
The popular vote Gov. Roosevelt held almost a 10 to 1 lead over Judge Howard, who voluntarily advocated the nomination of Speaker John N. Garner, of Texas.

The count stood: Roosevelt 51,498; Howard 5,541.

Political observers here credited Roosevelt's wide personal popularity in Georgia with a large share of responsibility for the victory. The New York Democrat made friends on his various visits to this state.

Speaker Garner's name was not entered on the primary ballot, but Judge Howard who sits on the Fulton-co superior bench, had volunteered to throw his 28 state delegates to the support of the movement for Garner's nomination, should he have won the primary.

STATE TO ADD 130 MILES OF NEW HIGHWAYS

Officials Act Feeling Certain Congress Will Pass Emergency Act

TO FURNISH MONEY

Contract Letting Ready to Begin at Once

COLUMBUS, O., March 24.—One hundred and thirty miles of new highways are being added to Ohio's 1932 construction program in the belief Congress will pass the $135,000,000 Emergency Road Act, it was learned today.

Confident that the bill will be adopted, giving Ohio $4,500,000 with which it can immediately provide jobs for hundreds of unemployed, state highway officials are completely revising their year's building plans.

PLANS ARE DRAWN

So convinced are they that the bill will be signed by the U. S. senate and approved by President Hoover, following passage recently by the house, that Planning Engineer Clyde L. Moyer already is drawing up specifications for new highways which would be built with the additional money.

Enactment of the bill into law would provide Ohio with approximately one-sixth more money for this year's new construction, resurfacing and other improvements, than first planned.

The new roads will be distributed throughout the state as planned now, most of the improvements being made on federal routes.

4 MILLION EXPECTED
Four million dollars would be made available for Ohio jobs under the highway department's estimate that 90 per cent of its construction expenditures goes to labor.

Unlike most federal aid money borrowed for road purposes, the state under the emergency act would not be required to "match" the loan.

The department would be pledged to pay the money back in 10 installments beginning in 1933.

Governor George White has already telegraphed Senator Hiram Bland (R) of Connecticut that Ohio is anxious to have the bill passed.

At the rate of progress now being made in planning for anticipated new highways, the Ohio highway department will be able to plunge into contract letting almost at once if the bill is approved.

In the revision of the 1932 construction plans, no cancellations have been ordered. The revisions are mostly additions due to the belief that more money will be available. If the bill is passed, the 1932 budget will be increased from $32,000,000 to $36,500,000.

EX-DEPUT

OHIO CONTINUES ON SHORT PROGRAM

COLUMBUS, O.,—While there was a slight improvement in the automobile industry, automobile accessory plants, tool and die, textile and clothing establishments, operations in most of the major industries in Ohio continued on a curtailed basis during February, a survey released by the United States employment service shows. The supply of labor, according to the survey, was greatly in excess of demands in practically all industrial centers of the state. Production in the bituminous coal industry continued far below normal and many additional mines were closed during the month, affecting hundreds of coal miners. Operations continued below normal in most of the iron and steel plants, foundries, metal establishments, furniture and woodworking plants, farm implements and machinery factories, wheel, pump and tool factories, confectionary plants, sand and gravel pits, stone quarries and gypsum mines. A slight upward movement was reported in certain railroad shops, bed spring and mattress factories, glass and ceramic establishments. UP MOVE SEEN Activities in the coal and gas fields remained quiet, except for some increased activity in one of the oil fields in the eastern section of the state. Refineries and many factories maintained fairly satisfactory schedules in most instances. Most of the brick, tile, building block, sewer pipe, fireproofing and other clay products plants were not very active and many plants remained closed during the month. While building was dull, the erection of federal structures, railroads terminals and other smaller projects in various centers furnished employment to quite a large number of men. A large number of building trades men throughout the State remained idle during the month. Municipal improvements, street repaving, highway construction and maintenance, bridge construction and public-utilities extensions and improvements in various communities furnished employment to many men. Most of the city, county, and state work is being rotated in order to provide work for as many of the idle as possible. Employment in several branches of the railroad industry remained dull and many of these men were affected. Nearly every line of industry contributed to the large surplus of labor apparent at the close of the month. Akron—Practically all establishments in this locality were in operation but many worked on curtailed schedules with reduced forces engaged. The rubber-tire factories continued fairly active. Canton—While most of the plants in this city operated during February, curtailed schedules and reduced forces prevailed in most instances. The prevailing large surplus of labor embraced nearly all trades. Cleveland—There was little change noted in the industrial-employment situation in the major industries compared with January. Some improvement was registered in the automobile, automobile-accessory, die and tool-making plants and clothing and textile establishments. Approximately 1,200 furloughed employees were recalled to the railroad shops. Building under way included the construction of a sewage-disposal plant to cost $2,700,000, a $125,000 store room, and a city-comfort station at $35,000, and other smaller operations. Cincinnati industrial district. Reduced schedules continued in many plants and an excess of labor prevailed. A soap factory maintained fairly satisfactory schedules and engaged many workers. A slight improvement was reported in the automobile industry. Nearly 400 men were recalled in the automobile industry at Hamilton during the month. COLUMBUS REPORTS Columbus—While the majority of the manufacturing plants were in operation, curtailed schedules and part-time employment prevailed in a number of the major industries. A lamp factory and a roller-bearing establishment remained inactive. The shoe factories, a conveyor plant, a glass factory, the food products plants and packing houses reported fairly satisfactory schedules. No large building projects were started. Dayton industrial district. The majority of the industrial establishments operated part-time, resulting in a large surplus of workers. Contracts for the erection of several buildings at a nearby flying field calling for an expenditure of about $100,000 will be awarded in March when, when started, should furnish employment for about 100 men. Lima industrial district. Curtailed schedules and reduced forces obtained in the locomotive works, which continued to operate on a 3-day-a-week basis with greatly reduced forces, engaged. The surplus of labor embraced practically all trades. PLAN AERIAL REVIEW SAN DIEGO.—The largest navy aerial review ever staged in the United States will be held here July 28 in honor of delegates to the editors national convention in Los Angeles. More than 400 navy and army planes are scheduled to take part in maneuvers which will be more spectacular than similar events in the past, according to navy officers now planning the review. Any member of the family of C. G. Shultz, S. Court-street, is invited to be a guest of The Herald to the Grand Theatre. Call at this office for ticket. JUDGE ALLEN GIVES STAND ON DRY LAWS

Supreme Judge Says Request For Referendum Doesn't Mean She's Wet.

CLEVELAND, March 24.—Another staunch Ohio dry advocate has bolted the Anti-Saloon league's strict "no surrender" platform.

Judge Florence Allen of the Ohio Supreme court, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 22nd district, made the bolt, announcing herself as favoring a National referendum on the prohibition question.

In fact, she went further than that. She promised that, if elected, she would vote for a referendum at every opportunity.

"When a large bloc of the people apparently are dissatisfied with a law, they should be given that right to go to the polls and express their sentiment," Justice Allen reasoned.

Miss Allen pointed out that her stand should not be interpreted as an indication that she feels the prohibition law has failed or that it should be changed. She still is a dry and expects to remain so.

Paradoxical as it may seem, however, her stand alienates the woman jurist from anti-saloon support under the policy announced recently by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the league.

Speaking from Washington, McBride said a candidate favoring a referendum must be interpreted as a "wet" candidate and would be treated accordingly.

In connection with her stand for a referendum on the liquor question, Miss Allen added that she thought the fact that there is no initiative and referendum in the National government setup was a serious defect.

As for a formal platform, Miss Allen has none yet. A staunch Democrat she believes in a low tariff and said she would work to lower the "disastrous rates" levied by the Smoot-Hawley tariff. She looks upon the present barrier to imports as a major barrier to business recovery.

IN THICK OF FIGHT Since her entrance into politics as a suffragist leader in 1912, Miss Allen has always been in the thick of the fight to make the world a better place in which to live. That was her reason for choosing to quit a judicial job which was secure until 1934 to run for a legislative office in a district for years Republican "almost by instinct."

"The present crisis is legislative, not judicial," she answered to a question of why she was making the race. If she is victorious, she will be the first congresswoman to be elected without a father or husband as a precedent. It will be the fourth major "first" of her career. She was the first woman to be appointed assistant secretary in Ohio, the first woman ever to sit on a common law bench in America, and the first woman in America ever to sit on a supreme court.

Beware of a fat that smokes easily

Protect your digestion with Crisco—the fat that deep fries without smoking

Do you follow the old rule—"When a fat smokes it's ready to fry in"? Don't! Remember that a smoking fat is burning. And a burnt fat is decomposed fat—indigestible.

Protect your digestion by frying with a fat that does not smoke at correct deep-frying heat. Crisco does not smoke if you follow the bread-cube test (see Hawaiian Fritter Recipe).

Crisco-fried foods are easy to digest. Why? Because Crisco itself is digestible. It is not just a "compound." It is a pure, wholesome fat, made by Crisco's own secret process to keep sweet, fresh and digestible!

Serve Hawaiian Fritters tonight. Your husband will love their fruitiness. And if his digestion tends to be touchy, he'll thank you for frying them in digestible Crisco!

THE DIGESTIVE ORGANS
STOMACH
SMALL INTESTINE
At these 3 danger points, ordinary fats may cause digestive troubles. Crisco digests easily.

Cheap fats may turn rancid or indigestible. CRISCO (in vacuum) stays fresh and digestible.

HAWAIIAN FRITTERS
1 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup pineapple juice
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup Crisco
Mix and sift. Fry in Crisco. 350° F. 10-15 minutes. Drain on paper. Dust with powdered sugar. Eat as a dessert or breakfast treat. Simple, delicious, and easy to make. Then it can be served with fruit and cream, as Crisco never carries the odor or taste of ordinary fats.

In the cooking school conducted recently under the auspices of The Herald, Mrs. George O. Thurn used and recommended Crisco, the modern shortening that digests easily

SENATE TO VOTE ON PROHIBITION ISSUE

WASHINGTON, March 24.—A showdown on the prohibition issue confronted the senate today after 24 senators signed a petition urging prompt action by its judiciary committee on all proposals to repeal or modify the eighteenth amendment.

After circulating the petition, which four drys signed, wet leaders announced they would move March 30 to discharge the committee from further consideration of the repeal and modification resolutions. This will bring a vote in the Senate on the same issue, on which the House voted 227 to 187 last week.

WELCOME VOTE
Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, one of the dry leaders, announced he welcomed such a vote.

"Nobody is objecting to a vote," said Borah. "Everybody knows these wet proposals will be rejected. The trouble has been that the wets never unite on any one proposition. Let them agree on the proposition they want reported to the senate and I am sure the judiciary committee will report it, but not favorably. There are twenty propositions pending before the committee and we naturally cannot submit all of them—not as long as we have any pride in our handling of grave constitutional issues."

The petition, signed by 13 Republicans and 11 Democrats, declared that "realizing the wide spread interest and divergent opinions concerning resolutions dealing with the repeal and modification of the eighteenth amendment, which are now pending before your (judiciary) committee, we respectfully petition said committee to report said resolutions to the senate in order that a vote may be had upon the same."

20 WETS SIGN
Twenty wets signed it, along with Senators Watson (R) of Indiana, Keyes (R) of New Hampshire, Moses (R) of New Hampshire, and Pittman (D) of Nevada, who have been classed as drys. The others were Oddie, Hebert, Calif., Barbour, Bingham, Wolcott, Metcalf, Couzens, Carey, Glenn, Copeland, Wheeler, Coolidge, Long, Wagner, Walsh, Mass., Hawes and Buckley, Democrats.

Among the resolutions pending before the judiciary committee are two, by Bingham and Wagner proposing repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Another by Tydings would propose a new amendment, making the eighteenth inoperative in any state ratifying the new amendment. A fourth by Barbour would make the eighteenth amendment inoperative in any state which permits the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors.

Other modifying resolutions before the committee would legalize 27 1/2 percent beer, permit sale of malt beverages for medicinal purposes, remove all limitations from use of alcoholics for medicinal purposes and limit the prohibition laws to liquors actually intoxicating in fact. The drys have a number of their measures before the committee, including the Sheppard bill, prohibiting the purchase of alcoholic liquors, banning cider and fruit juices and prohibiting liquor in private dwellings.

HOG SUIT IS IN ROSS COURT

Judge McKenzie of Ross-Cochran Hears Arguments in Court There Wednesday.

CHILLICOTHE, March 24.—The action brought by the trustees of Ohio Wesleyan university against E. P. Cryder, in which Cryder filed an interpleader under which he arranged to release himself from further responsibility in the case and had The Pickaway Finance company and James Carroll substituted as defendants, was tried before Judge McKenzie in common pleas court Wednesday morning.

The action involves the purchase by Cryder of some hogs from the Ohio Wesleyan university's farm, northwest of Kingston, Carroll, the tenant, insisted half the payment check be made to him inasmuch as there was a mortgage on his half of the hogs. The university's agent, Mr. Hughes, insisted the check be made to the university. Cryder delivered the check to Hughes, but later feared that there might be trouble over who was entitled to the money and he stopped payment on the check.

DEPOSITED AMOUNT
In answering the petition and filing an interpleader, Cryder offered and did deposit with the clerk of courts the amount necessary to cover the check, stating that because of the mixup concerning the mortgage he did not know who was entitled to the fund and asked the court to substitute the other parties as defendants and establish their rights.

Later, one-half the sum was paid to the university, and the disputed one-half is the subject of the litigation going on today. The Pickaway Finance company, represented by L. B. Yaple, and Robert Criswell, contend that the university knew of the existence of the mortgage on Carroll's share which in fact was said to be a renewal of a previous mortgage, the renewal being made at the university agent's request to release for sale some cattle included under the original mortgage.

The university, represented by Fred L. Rosemond, Columbus, and Wilby G. Hyde, city, claims Carroll's interest, as set forth in a farming contract was not definitely fixed and varied from time to time according to the amount in which he might be indebted to the university for expenditures it made upon Carroll's failure to do so. Mr. Rosemond said the evidence would show Carroll was indebted to the university in the sum of $987.59 and that his interest would only be the interest remaining after final settlement of such claims.

James Odell from Lancaster city hospital where he had undergone an operation for ruptured appendix, he is improving slowly.

Among those from Cypress Temple that attended the inspection of Pythian Sisters at Lancaster, Monday night, were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Huffer, Mrs. Jennie Warner, Hazel Bruney, Vera Van Cleave and Leona Rife, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stebleton, Viola Rife, Sarah Stein and Jean, Mrs. Stahl and Miss Irene Stahl, Mrs. Anna Frazee, Stella Butterbaugh and Etta Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arledge announce the arrival of a son, Friday evening.

Harold Huffer and Noel Baker were visitors at Fox Post Office, Sunday.

Town Gets Wrong Pole Painted at Half Price

Valley Stream, L. I.—The son of Everett S. Strange, the village steeplejack and flagpole painter, took an order from the village board for his father to paint the flagpole in front of District School No. 1. Instead for No. 1 he wrote down No. 4, which is the Clearwater school. The price was to be $30.

So the elder Strange painted the wrong flagpole and rendered the bill for the contracted fee. The village board informed him of his mistake and assured him the error was on him. He placed himself on the mercy of the trustees and they said that since they were going to have the pole of School No. 4 painted anyway they would pay him $15 for his services.

self in his profession is to cut the knot, to set forth on his own, quite apart from me, and win his way back to the standing he enjoyed in the theater, before this unfortunate situation in pictures has a chance to reach us, and destroy the love and respect we have for each other."

Bannister's statement was more brief. It read:

"During the 5 1/2 years I have been married to Ann Harding, I have had the love, respect and devotion of the very great and lovely person who is my wife.

"Therefore, in order to preserve this in its entirety we find the apparently drastic course of divorce the quickest and best solution to our eventual complete happiness. There is nothing further that I

Tiring of playing only "bits" in pictures Bannister recently at his request obtained a release from his studio contract which called for a salary of $75,000 a year. He will "free lance" in more important roles, and hopes to leave soon for New York to appear again on the stage.

Bannister is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He is tall and handsome, a clever actor. Miss Harding is a graduate of Bryn Mawr, was with the Provincetown players, and headed a stock company in 1927 in Detroit when she met Bannister. They were married in New York the year

The daughter, Jane, was born in Pittsburgh in June, 1928.

OHIO GUARDS READY FOR ACTION'S CALL

COLUMBUS, C. March 24—The game of war played the year-round by the Ohio National Guard has reached its peak of excitement in the last few days since Governor White threatened to supply the militia with a real enemy.

Promising, real thrills instead of only make-believe battles in armies against imaginary foes, the governor's declaration that he may send troops into the coal fields to quiet mine disorders has set guardsmen a-tingle with anticipation.

COMMANDS SHARPER

Commands on drill night this week were a little sharper and in every unit there was a flutter of excitement at the possibility of being sent out to quell the strikers.

Maps of southern Ohio are strewn about the offices of Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson and his assistant, Col. John M. Volka, in the state house here, and there is a new bustle and hurry that harks back to the war days.

The unusual activities punctuated with low-toned conferences at which problems of a possible expedition into the Hocking Valley are discussed.

In making preparations for possible trouble in southern Ohio, General Henderson and members of his staff have revealed how extensive is their "game of soldiers" is played here every month of the year.

As a part of requirements of the U. S. war department, heads of the state militia draw up a "general mobilization" scheme so they will be prepared to join at once in a war against a foreign enemy if the country is attacked from land, sea or air.

As conditions change, the mobilization plan changes. There are few idle moments in this make-believe struggle of nations.

Militia strategists also try to be prepared for nearly every situation that might arise in the state, although there are so many reasons for which the guardsmen might be called out that no attempt is made to plan for any of the details.

TO ASSEMBLE TROOPS

If the militia should be called out, the first problem will be the assembling of troops, which will be comparatively simple as far as the office of General Henderson is concerned.

A telegraphic or telephone order will go out. It will only say "Assemble you troops and wait for orders."

In some cities the guardsmen would be summoned by a bell or a siren if such an emergency should arise. In others the captain would tell his lieutenant to notify his "key men" who in turn would notify others. In this way the word would be quickly spread.

Using all possible speed, the question of how the troops would be transported to the Hocking Valley would be solved in a few minutes in a conference with railroad representatives. Special trains probably would be used.

"Councils of war" in the last few days have included talks between officers of the signal corps regarding the installation of radio equipment to enable communication, even though strikers would cut the telephone wires, as they are reported to have done Sunday prior to the dynamiting of a trestle near Millfield, O.

A thought was also given to the aerial observation squadron of from eight to 11 planes, commanded by Major Errol H. Zistel of Cleveland, and the part it might play.

Regular army officers who are now conducting their annual inspection of troops in Ohio are bringing in discouraging word about the condition of the men and equipment in some cases and encouraging news in others.

Where the troops would be sent if there should be a strike outbreak is not known, or at least is not revealed here. It might be Nelsonville, Athens, Marietta, New Lexington, New Philadelphia, or any of several other places in the coal fields.

Necessarily, all the plans which are made are kept confidential. "They're not secret, just confidential," Colonel Volka said. "We don't object to anybody having them except in possible emergencies like this, when to reveal them would do us no good."

How to Escape FLU and Grippe

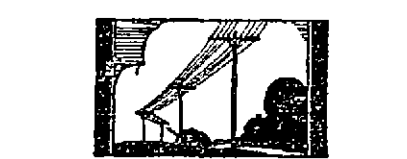

1 Avoid so far as possible the places where germs are most likely to be spread; overcrowded cars and public meeting places; overheated, stuffy rooms.

2 Be careful of close contact with others and beware of all coughers and sneezers; breathe through the nose, get fresh air, but avoid drafts or chilling.

3 Get lots of rest. Drink plenty of water. Keep the bowels open. Take extra precaution to keep in good physical condition, so your system will have normal resistance against germs.

4 Try, particularly, to avoid catching cold. Colds lower your resistance to disease germs. At the first sign of any cold, take Bayer Aspirin; remain indoors if possible until your cold is gone. And if you have a sore throat, dissolve some Bayer Aspirin tablets in water and gargle; this relieves the soreness, and it usually reduces the inflammation.

5 If you have any reason to suspect even a touch of flu, call your doctor at once.

Your Telephone Is Always a Valuable, Dependable Friend

In troubled times, we all get a new sense of values. Such homely things as life insurance, telephone service, good food and good water—all seem closer to us than ever before.

Your telephone, for example, is always a true servant. It helps you work. It helps you play. It helps you earn money. It helps you to make and keep friends. In fact, nearly every part of your daily life is influenced and assisted by your telephone. In good times or bad times, its worth never changes. Nothing can take its place.

It is very, very difficult, indeed, to place a value on so true a friend as your telephone.

PICKAWAY SCHOOLS

Mrs. O. C. Meyer taught the seventh grade for Mr. Van Zant Monday while he attended his grandmother's funeral near Hillsboro.

Mumps and chicken pox have caused several pupils to be absent lately.

The girls basketball squad went to Circleville Tuesday noon to have the photograph made. Because of illness of one of the boys, their sitting was postponed until such time as all can go.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Meyer spent the week end with her folks at Grand Rapids, O. They were accompanied by C. M. Van Zant.

Last week we failed to report the result of the annual basketball class tournament. In the preliminaries the seniors defeated the sophomores 19 to 7, and the juniors outscored the freshmen 29 to 5. The final tilt between the juniors and seniors was fast and close from beginning to end. An overtime period was necessary and the juniors finally squeezed through with a score of 21 to 20. The senior-sophomore girls team turned back the junior freshman team by score of 20 to 17. It was a pleasant evening for all who participated, and a fitting climax to our basketball season.

PLAN TO TAX HIGH SCHOOL FUNDS HIT

COLUMBUS, March 24.—The Ohio High School Athletic Association was as mad as a chess leader with tonsils today about the proposed plan to levy a 10 per cent federal tax on athletic receipts.

State High School Athletic Commissioner H. R. Townsend announced that the state association will fight the plan with all its strength.

TOWNSEND PROTESTS
When it was discovered that several Congressmen were serious about taxing a 1 per cent nibble out of every high school's strong box, Townsend entered a formal protest with Congressman Arthur P. Lambeck (D) of Columbus.

Declaring that "three-fourths of our members can hardly make it now financially," Townsend asserted that such a tax will leave many high school athletic associations prostrate.

The total "taken" out of Ohio under such a scheme would mount to many thousands of dollars from high schools alone, he stated.

To make their opposition to the bill felt, members of the boards of control of the association also decided to enter their objections with Congressmen in their districts.

DOUBTS RIGHT
Townsend said he doubts the constitutional right of Congress to tax school athletic receipts.

"After all," said the commissioner, "public schools are not in athletic to make money."

"Congress would tax itself if it were to tax a public institution."

"I know that the Ohio High School Athletic association could not afford to lose $750 out of the $7500 that comes in from the state finals held at the end of the basketball season."

"Most schools are having a hard time making both ends meet in their athletic programs now. A ten per cent surplus is more than most of them have," he added.

Townsend predicted that high schools cannot hope to pass the tax on to fans since they would not stand for higher admission prices.

ST. JOHN IRED TOO
L. W. St. John, Ohio State athletic director, is participating in the fight against the bill on behalf of universities and colleges who also insist that they cannot bear such a levy.

St. John is now in New York where the National Collegiate Athletic association is mustering its power to prevent enactment of the "rider" on the present revenue bill.

The Stanley Cup, now the bauble of professional hockey teams, once was emblematic of the world's amateur hockey championship. The cup first was contested for in 1893 and was won by the Montreal A. A. A.

COLUMBUS, O.—The wild duck situation throughout the United States is a puzzle. Last fall federal authorities reduced the duck season to approximately thirty days throughout the United States, and called attention to the alleged shortage of wild ducks due to the drought in Canada in 1930 and 1931.

It was stated by Canadian authorities that ducks did not nest as in former years and that a serious shortage had resulted. This was reported by such well known authority as H. V. Lloyd of the Canadian government game department at Ottawa.

United States authorities predicted that duck shooting would come to an end within a few years unless protective measures were undertaken.

The return flight of wild ducks through Ohio and the middle west this season in the opinion of many experts, the predictions of federal authorities. There are more ducks at present in Ohio, at Ohio lakes and along the rivers, and up and down the Ohio river and the Mississippi than at any time in years, sportsmen declare.

Whether there is a concentration because of weather conditions, whether the time of flight is changed this year for unknown reasons, or whether ducks actually nested farther North beyond the drought ridden territory and come south with the usual increase is a moot question. No one seems to know. Federal authorities still cling to the stand that there is a shortage. It will take at least another year to determine through observation and scientific investigation on the part of American and Canadian officials, there is every reason to believe.

Legislation is now before Congress to provide funds with which to purchase breeding grounds and nesting areas in states where ducks nest and in Canada. One plan is a federal hunting license to provide the funds. Another plan is a cent a shell tax on shotgun shells. The proceeds to be used to procure and maintain vast areas of marshlands and nesting grounds under federal control. Congress will be a hard body with which to deal this year on appropriations, yet as a conservation measure, authorities declare that the fund must come from somewhere if marshlands are to be saved for migratory wild fowl.

Not in years have as many ducks and geese been seen at Lake St. Marys in Ohio. Plenty of food has been provided on the game refuges at Lake St. Marys and at Indian Lake. Ducks are very plentiful at Indian Lake and at Buckeye Lake, especially mallards and black ducks. The drought did not materially decrease the mallards and black ducks since these birds nest mostly in the Northeastern part of Canada where no drought was experienced. Shortages reported were on pintails, wigwags, teal, redheads, canvasbacks, and scaups that nest in Northwestern breeding grounds of Canada and the Hudson Bay district, where the drought was serious according to Canadian officials.

Grand National Winner

Never once mentioned as having even a remote chance in the big race, Forbra (above) led the field home in the English Grand National Steeplechase. The winner was quoted in the odds at 50 to 1. Egremont was second. Shaun Gollin was third. None of the American entries finished in the money.

MONROE TWP SCHOOL NOTES

The fourth grade pupils are making bird booklets.

The fifth grade pupils chose one of the states of the United States for which they also are making booklets.

There are thirty-seven pupils in the seventh and eighth grades who have not been absent or tardy the past week.

The seventh grade has deminished somewhat in size owing to the withdrawal of five members: Arthur Clark, Howard and Harold Rolfe, Audrey Payne, and Helen Hatfield.

The Utopian Literary society gave an interesting program Friday March 18.

The high school has lost two members: Drusilla and Elwood Payne. One member came in, Harold Lemaster, making a total enrollment of fifty-five.

The junior re-elected class officers. Elvin Crawford, president, Ernestine Skinner, treas., and Margaret Dick, sec.

The sophomores class have organized a "Better English Club" under the supervision of Miss Shaffer. They meet every Friday.

The officers are Evelyn Smith, pres., Robert Walters, v. ice pres., and Mary Elizabeth Knapp, sec.

The sophomore English class will give a winter roast, at Gaylord Down's home, on April 1.

Preparations are being made for the junior-senior banquet which is to be given April 8, unless the date is changed later.

The high school and grades are having eliminations for the spelling contest which will be given at Jackson High School, April 16.

The students have shown marked improvement in spelling.

Final plans are being made for the closing school activities.

Mrs. Barton has sent for several new music numbers. These will be sung at the baccalaureate and the program for the last day of school.

The seniors are quietly looking forward to the night that they will give their class play, "The Poor Married Man," which sounds very promising. Come and enjoy the evening with them.

Watch for the date later.

Gladys Crawford, Ernestine Skinner, and June Hanawalt, under the supervision of Mrs. Barton, the English teacher, are news-reporters for this month.

Great Service
The story is told of England's notorious Beau Brummell that once, when remonstrated with by the wealthy father of a young man whom he, Brummell, had helped to "pluck" at cards, he said, "Upon my honor, sir, I did much for your son. I once gave him my arm all the way from White's to Walter's! Think of that, sir!"

PETROLLE AND BATTALINO GO IN N. Y. TONITE

Favor Fargo Express to Take Former Feather Champ; Upset Possible.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Billy Petrolle meets up with Battalino in Madison Square Garden here tonight and the interests of boxing should be served best if Petrolle knocked Battalino into Shanghai.

Battalino has served as a gambling tool for a long, long time. He has been part and parcel of some strange affairs de fisticuff. He did a staggering and swooning act in Cincinnati with Freddie Miller that should have brought his perpetual suspension from the prize rings of the world.

WAS OVERWEIGHT
He was matched to meet Lou Feldman in New York at the featherweight limit. He knew days before that he could not make the poundage. He did not notify the Garden. Rather, he waited until two in the afternoon of fight day to make his appearance before the commission—weighing 10 pounds or so over the class.

The fight was called off and Battalino suspended.

But Battalino has a following. The promoters recognize it and, instead of refusing to do business with a fighter of his type, they hand him headline chances. He was sent against Eddie Ran, in Madison Square Garden, two weeks ago, his suspension being conveniently lifted and put up a fight wherein his main effort was to keep out of the way of Ran's right hand.

Now they are going to send him against Petrolle.

The sharpshooters confess themselves puzzled in trying to guess the outcome.

PETROLLE FAVORED
Well, if Petrolle doesn't win by either a knockout or a margin as wide as the Sahara desert, then Petrolle ought to turn his share of the purse over to charity.

Petrolle has a great right hand and the most paralyzing left hook seen among the little fellows since Charlie White's time. He has speed, stamina, experience and a keen ring brain. He has fought with the best of them and laughed them off.

Battalino never had much more than durability and courage to recommend him. He never stiffened anything other than a glass jawed human in his life. He knows little about the science of the game. He is basically a climber, a holder and a mauler.

Many are anticipating a night of wild action in the Garden. It is quite likely that they will be disappointed. But Petrolle won't be responsible. He'll stand up and slug it with any man alive. He has no time for clinching.

The Boston Bruins were the first U. S. A. entry in the National Hockey League. They joined in 1925.

Cornet and Curl Coiffure

One of women's knottiest problems is how to arrange the crowning glory in the most becoming manner. Here, Dorothy Jordan, screen player, gives her version of the ideal coiffure. It is a combination of cornet braid and curls. The braid forms a halo around the head, coming down the left side over the ear and pinned back on the right side. The soft ringlet line softens the knape of the neck and adds femininity to the face.

WASHINGTON-TW. SCHOOL NOTES

The Washington Twp teachers were royally entertained by Mrs. Ruth Macklin Marion, the music teacher, at her home in Columbus, Ohio. A delicious three course dinner was served and greatly enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bennett, Miss Nellie Kuhn, Miss Edith Spangler, Miss Ruth DeLong, Mr. Neudell Boyer and the hostess and her husband, Mr. Marion. Jack Macklin was also seated with the guests. An evening of interesting games and of course a little school talk followed. We missed greatly Mr. Straight and Mrs. Gerner who were unable to attend, because of illness in their families.

Miss Retha Diltz took the Senior Scholarship test S.aturday at Peoria High School. We are sure that she derived a great deal of benefit from it.

Miss Eleanor Dresbach, who has been absent because of illness is back in school again.

Easter season is approaching. This week special stress is being laid upon its significance in difference ways. Mr. Bennett is reading the story of Christ's betrayal, Crucifixion, and resurrection, from the Bible each morning. In Mrs. Gerner's English I and II classes special themes are being written upon Easter.

Willis Chester has drawn a cross with Easter lilies on it, for his special contribution upon the blackboard in Mrs. Gerner's room.

Spelling up and spelling down seems to be the great talk now. Everyone is spelling. We feel that our spelling has already profited 100 per cent in anticipation of the contest. We have some pupils, who you just can't spell down with words of their own grade. A spelling contest is a sure win because if one enters heartily into it, he wins of his loss, because he has added to his skill.

Miss Ruth DeLong reports that the 3rd and 4th grades are still on their trips around the world and are visiting in Holland just now. We have learned to like our little foreign friends very much. The sand table, with its dikes, windmills, flowers, and goose girls looks like a wee bit of Holland itself. We have made a Holland language book also. We have read the books entitled "The Dutch Twins", "Holland Stories" and "The Sun Bonnet Babies in Holland". Following are two letters which were sent home by two pupils.

Amsterdam, Holland,
March 21, 1932

Dear Mother:-
I am in Amsterdam. I am having a fine time. I am fine and hope you are too.

I met two little Dutch friends, Hansel and Gretel. When I first saw Holland, I saw tulips, windmills, and little houses of bright colors. It surely is a beautiful country. The windmills are their power over there. We see dog carts traveling everywhere.

It is such a low land. High banks are built all around the little country. These are called dikes. They are to keep the country from being flooded.

The great ocean rushes in on them. A leak was in one dike this afternoon, but they soon got it fixed. I sure was glad. The girls wear many skirts and each birthday, they get a new one. I think they would get a little warm. They wear dutch shoes made of wood. I put them on. I stumbled over my own feet. Tomorrow Kermis week begins. They have a big time. It is something like Pumpkin Show. Our friends are showing us around. I will tell you more when I get home. I like this beautiful country so well, that I am going to stay longer than I thought. Here comes the Goose girl "Gretel". Well I must close. I am coming back on the ship.

Much love to you all
Your son,
Paul Bowers

Dear Mother and Daddy:-
How are you? I am fine today. All the children in Holland talk Dutch. We staid at a hotel one night.

They have very ruin TAONI. They have very funny beds. They are built in the wall in a very tiny room. We met a little girl and boy. Their names are Hans and Betje. Holland is very low. They build dikes to keep the water from coming. If you were here, you would see windmills, cows and flowers. Most of their
